Our Mission

Going To The Dogs works with law enforcement agencies in both Kansas and Missouri to provide assistance for K9 units. It is our belief that the partnership between police departments - both large and small - and the K9s is essential for the protection of citizens to fight crime and to save lives.

Going To the Dogs provides assistance in four primary areas:

Protection - The safety of the K9 officers is our first priority. Together with law enforcement, we work to purchase bullet and stab proof vests.

Purchase: Acquiring a trained K9 can cost from $10,000 to $15,000. For some, this cost is a significant hardship and our goal is to assist with that expense.

Pension - We are committed to assisting K9 handlers with a stipend to help with the medical needs of their retired K9s.

Praise and Celebration - We help finance a Celebration of Life when a K9 passes on to honor their service with a ceremony and a headstone.
